Junior Flies In Jet Plane As First WAF

JANET MARSHALL, a junior at the University, is the first college student in the nation to be officially enrolled in the new Air Force ROTC WAF training program.

The University is one of ten schools throughout the country to offer an AFROTC WAF program leading to a commission as a second lieutenant in the Air Force upon graduation.

Miss Marshall completed the requirements for enrollment and enlisted in the Air Force Reserve at Andrews Air Force base Monday, September 24. The Air Force offered her an opportunity for quick indoctrination by giving her a ride in a jet fighter plane the day after she enlisted.

"I joined the WAF ROTC unit because it offers a wonderful experience and it holds a bright future," Miss Marshall stated of the program.

Born In Shanghai

The nineteen-year-old foreign affairs student, daughter of a Marine Warrant Officer, was born in Shanghai, China. Although she considers San Diego, California, her home town, she transferred to the University in September, 1955, after one year at the University of Hawaii.

Following Miss Marshall into the program were eight other girls, including Anne Bageant, Elsie Baker, Ruth Irwin, Christina Morgan, Barbara Suse, Catherine Pendleton, Carol Wilson, and Nancy Bealle. In addition to participating in the University's Angel Flight, the girls will take advanced classroom study.

Greeks Attend Booster Rally

THE FIRST HOME football game of the season will be boosted by a pep rally at Monroe terrace at 12:30 p.m. Friday.

In order to receive Colonial Booster points at the rally, sororities and fraternities are required to have an attendance of at least five members and to be identified by a poster or banner. A roll call of these groups is planned.

At other pep rallies this season, five University mugs will be awarded as prizes to the holders of the "Lucky Booster book numbers."

Council Petitions

THE STUDENT Council announces that petitions for the position of freshman director will close at 5 p.m. Friday, October 5. Petitions for co-chairmen of Winter Weekend and Career Conference will close at 5 p.m. October 9, and petitions for co-chairmen of Colonial Cruise will close at 5 p.m., October 23. Students interested in petitioning for these positions may apply at the student activities office in the Student Union annex.

Skip Maraney, master of ceremonies, will introduce the co-captains of the football team. The cheerleaders led by Captain Helen Niles, plan to include their new cheers in the program.

Pep rallies are sponsored by Colonial Boosters, with Inez Tonelli as rally chairman. Dick Nelson is chairman of the Booster board.

Presidential Symposium Initiates Highlights of Homecoming Program

THE ANNUAL HOMECOMING buffet luncheon and symposium, to be held in Lisner auditorium Saturday, October 27, is one of five major events on the Homecoming agenda.

The symposium will begin at 2 p.m. Members of the University faculty, representing the department of history and political science, will discuss "The American Presidency."

Dr. Myron L. Koenig, professor of American history, will be moderator. Panel members are Dean W. Reed West, professor of political science; Dr. Wood Gray, professor of American history, and Dr. Richard C. Haskett, assistant professor of American history.

The panelists will discuss the history and background of the Presidency, the current campaign, the importance of the Vice Presidency and other related issues.

Alums Answer Questions

Following the formal symposium, University alumni, now members of the Washington press corps, will question the panel members.

Judge James R. Kirkland, president of the General Alumni association, has extended a special invitation to all University students to attend the symposium.

Preceding the panel, the buffet luncheon will be held in Lisner lounge, beginning at 12:30. Admission to the luncheon is $1.50. The luncheon will be the occasion for the reunions of the classes of 1906, 1931 and 1946.

DOCTOR MYRON L. KOENIG

Homecoming weekend will open with the annual pep rally and variety show Thursday, October 25, at 8:30 p.m. in Lisner auditorium. Theme of the show is

Special Election Set For Council Position

A NEW STUDENT Council freshman director will be elected by the University in a special ballot Wednesday, October 10.

Petitions for the post are now being accepted in the student activities office of the Student Union annex. They close at 5 p.m. Friday, October 5.

The new freshman director will fill the position formerly held by Myra Little. Miss Little announced her resignation at the Council meeting last Wednesday.

The Freshman director's duties include planning the freshman orientation program and the annual Activities Fair.

Student Council advocate Jerry Reinsdorf has submitted the following rules governing candidates and elections:

1. Students must submit petitions between September 26 and 5 p.m. October 5.

2. Campaigning will be limited to Wednesday, October 10, during the following periods: before 9:10 a.m., 10 to 10:10 a.m., 11 to 11:10 a.m., noon to 1:10 p.m., 2 to 3:10 p.m. and 7 to 7:10 p.m.

3. No campaigning may take place on the north side of G St. between sorority hall and the west end of Monroe hall, nor in any University building.

4. Campaign posters may not be displayed until 8 a.m. Monday, October 8.

5. No more than $35 may be spent for the campaign by any candidate. This includes donations. A budget of estimated expenses must be submitted to the student activities office by Monday, October 8.

6. Expenditures for advertising in the HATCHET shall not exceed $10, plus the cost of a cut if one is used.

No Posters In Class

7. No campaign literature may be displayed in classrooms.

8. All students enrolled in the University are entitled to vote. The voter must present his signed activity book and some valid identification card which bears the signature of the voter.

9. Any student accused of perpetrating and/or being responsible for the violation or infringement of these rules shall be prosecuted before Student Council and disqualified if found guilty.

Voting times will be announced.

Rushees Enter Closing Week

FRATERNITY RUSH programs begin their second week tonight with rotation parties at off-campus fraternity houses from 8 to midnight.

On-campus fraternities will hold final rotation parties Thursday, October 7, from 8 p.m. to midnight. Open houses will be held at all fraternity houses Saturday, October 6, at 8 p.m. Informal rush

Activity Cards

ALL INDEPENDENT sophomore, junior and senior men at the University may fill out their student activity cards this week in the office of Dr. Don C. Faith, director of activities for men, 2029 H St. Activity cards may be brought up to date by students who have already submitted them.

begins at midnight November 8 and will continue through midnight January 16.

The off-campus group includes Kappa Alpha, Kappa Sigma, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Tau Epsilon Phi and Tau Kappa Epsilon.

On-campus houses are Acacia, Alpha Epsilon Pi, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Alpha, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

A rush man must be registered for at least six credit hours and must not be affiliated with any national social fraternity.

"Parade through the Past."

The five finalists for Homecoming Queen will be presented during the program. The Queen will be chosen by student ballot in an election the following day.

The Homecoming float parade, in which campus fraternities and sororities compete for the Colonial Boosters cup, will be held Friday afternoon, October 26. Bev Borden and Dick Jamborsky, Homecoming co-chairmen, have secured permission to hold the parade on Pennsylvania Ave.

The University will face William and Mary in the Homecoming football game at 8 p.m. Friday, October 26, in Griffith Stadium. Fraternity open houses will follow the game.

Final Event

Final event of the week end is the Homecoming Ball, to be held Saturday, October 27, 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., in the National Guard Armory. Hal McIntyre and his orchestra will play. Jack Morton, a University graduate, and his orchestra will provide intermission music.

The Homecoming Queen will be announced and crowned at the Ball, and Gate and Key, fraternity men's honorary, and Omicron Delta Kappa, junior and senior's honorary, will tap new members.

Presbyterian students meet weekly with the Westminster Foundation at 12:30 p.m. on Wednesday in building O. Karin Ericson is president.

Magazines Sponsor University Contests

• THREE NATIONAL MAGAZINES are now sponsoring contests open to college students throughout the country.

The Reader's Digest is offering $41,000 in cash and scholarships as prizes in an October competition for students and faculty members. On blanks available at key points on the campus, entrants may list in order the six articles which they consider the most interesting in the October issue of the magazine. Those with listings closest to the results of a survey of Digest readers will receive the awards.

First prize is $5,000 in cash, with another $5,000 to the scholarship fund of the winner's college. Second prize is $1,000 cash with an equal amount to the scholarship fund. Ten $500 cash prizes carry the same scholarship grants.

One-hundred prizes of $10 in credit at University book stores will also be given. The best entry from each college will receive an additional $10 in book credit. Entries close October 25.

Vogue Contest

Vogue magazine has announced its twenty-second annual Prix de Paris contest, open to senior college women, with $1,000 in cash or two weeks in Paris as prizes, and top consideration for a position on the magazine to go to the winners.

Second prize is $500 cash, and each of ten honorable mention winners will receive $25 cash. All high winners will be considered for the staffs of Conde Nast publications.

Judged on Ability

Contestants are judged on writing ability, grasp of subject matter, general intelligence, originality and demonstration of special talents. Using Vogue magazine as a textbook, competitors must complete two quizzes of four questions each, based on editorial problems. Those who satisfactorily answer both quizzes will be eligible to submit a 1500-word thesis on one of the topics in Vogue's February 1 issue. Enrollment blanks are available from Prix de Paris Director, Vogue, 420 Lexington Ave., New York 17, N. Y.

Mademoiselle Applications

Mademoiselle magazine is now accepting applications from undergraduate women for membership on its 1956-57 college board. The contest offers a chance at winning one of twenty guest editorships a month on the staff of the magazine.

Deadline Set

November 30 is the deadline for applications. To enter, a student writes a 1500-word critique of the editorial section of Mademoiselle's August, 1956 college issue, or a later issue.

Successful candidates will be notified of acceptance on the college board before Christmas, and the first college board assignment will appear in the January issue of Mademoiselle.

Old And New Mingle At Rally And Dance

• OLD AND NEW students mingled at the pep rally and social dance held last Friday night in the gymnasium.

The pep rally, sponsored by Colonial Boosters, featured cheers led by the University cheerleaders, the awarding of University mugs to five students present, and the appearance of "George and Martha" a traditional Booster-sponsored football season mystery.

A receiving line, composed of faculty and Student Council members, highlighted the dance. Music was provided by Al Bruffey and the University dance band.

Intermission entertainment included the presentation of last year's winning Goat Show skit, with an inter-sorority cast. The social dance was the last function of the Welcome Week program.

HAPPY-JOE-LUCKY presents STICKLERS!

STUCK FOR MONEY? DO A

Stickler!

STICKLERS ARE TICKLERS and a mighty soft way to make money! Just write down a simple riddle and a two-word rhyming answer. For example: What's a ball player who gets a raise? (Answer: richer pitcher.) Note: both words must have the same number of syllables—bleak freak, jolly dolly, vinery finery. Send your Sticklers, with your name, address, college, and class, to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Don't do drawings! We'll pay $25 for every Stickler we use in our advertising—and for hundreds that never see print. And remember—you're bound to Stickle better when you're enjoying a Lucky, because Luckies taste better. Luckies' mild, good-tasting tobacco is TOASTED to taste even better. Fact is, you'll say Luckies are the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked!

THE SEARCH FOR BRIDEY SIGAFOOS

It was a dullish evening at the Theta house. Mary Ellen Krumbald was sticking pins in an effigy of the house mother; Evelyn Zinsmaster was welding a manhole cover to her charm bracelet; Algatica McKeesport was writing a letter to Elvis Presley in blood. Like I say, it was a dullish evening.

Suddenly Dolores Vladnay stood up and stamped her foot. "Chaps," she said to her sorors, "this is too yawn-making! Let's do something gay and mad and wild and different and gasp-making. Anybody got an idea?"

"No," said the sorors, shaking their little sausage curls.

"Think, chaps, think!" said Dolores and passed Philip Morris Cigarettes to everybody, and if there ever was a think-making smoke, it is today's fresh and zesty and yummy Philip Morris. Things come clear when you puff a good, clean, natural Philip Morris — knots untie, dilemmas dissolve, problems evaporate, cobwebs vanish, fog disperses, and the benevolent sun pours radiance on a new and dewy world. Oh, happy world! Oh, Philip Morris! Oh, regular! Oh, long-size! Oh, get some already!

"One, two, three."

Now Geraldine Quidnunc, her drooping brain-cells revived by a good Philip Morris, leapt up and cried, "Oh, I have a perfect gasser of an idea! Let's hypnotize somebody!"

"Oh, capital!" cried the sorors. "Oh, tingle-making!" "Yes," said Dolores Vladnay, "it is a splendid idea, but hypnosis requires a pliant and malleable mind, and we are all so strong and well-adjusted."

At this point, in walked a young pledge named Alice Bluegown. "Excuse me, mistresses," said she, "I have finished making your beds, doing your homework, and ironing your pleats. Will there be anything else?"

"Yes," snapped Dolores Vladnay. "When I count to three, you will be hypnotized."

"Yes, excellency," said Alice, bobbing a curtsy.

"One, two, three," said Dolores.

Alice promptly went into a trance.

"Go back," said Dolores. "Go back to your fifth birthday, back to your birth, to before your birth, to your last incarnation. . . Now, who are you?"

"My name is Bridey Sigafos," said Alice. "The year is 1818, and I am in County Cork."

"Coo!" said the sorors.

"How old are you?" asked Dolores.

"I am seven," said Alice.

"Where is your mother?" asked Dolores.

"She got sold at the fair last year."

"Coo!" said the sorors.

"Tell us about yourself," said Dolores.

"I am five feet tall," said Alice. "I have brown eyes, and weigh 3200 pounds."

"Coo!" said the sorors.

"Isn't that rather heavy for a girl?" said Dolores.

"Who's a girl?" said Alice. "I'm a black and white guernsey."

"Coo!" said the sorors.

"Moo!" said Bridey Sigafos.

Too Many Errors

• THE UNIVERSITY is in a unique position and therefore has many unique problems, or so some people say to excuse inefficient work. With 12,000 students registering each semester, one of the greatest problems is student records. All of a student's permanent records are kept at the Office of the Registrar.

These records are among the most important in our lives. They include transcripts from high schools and other Universities. There is a record of the number of hours each of us has completed at the University and the grades for each one of our courses are recorded at that office. Records of how we stand in our class, our over-all QP's and our credits, both in our majors and outside our majors, are kept there. In other words, information about the whole academic side of our college careers can be obtained from the Office of the Registrar.

Each student has a personal file there which contains letters, transcripts and a record of work done at the University. The files are kept under a code system and the older files are on microfilm. Nobody can get in and see the files. Generally they are only taken out for Government investigators. Students can get balance sheets containing the number of credit hours they have completed, have yet to complete, and their over-all QP's in their majors and in the other subjects they have taken. Transcripts of records may be sent to other institutions upon request, and photostatic copies of records called "true copies" will be sent to individuals when requested.

All of this knowledge, recently acquired, we find very soothing. After all, these records may mean a great deal to us when it comes time to graduate and start job-hunting. But we still have a little nagging doubt about the Registrar's Office and one question to ask. Why, if the system is so well set up and functions so properly, are records constantly being mixed up? Why, for example, did one student have to spend two days getting credits straightened out before receiving an A.A.? The record of the work which had been done at another university should have been in the files under the proper name. Why does mail for two students with similar last names but totally different first names always get sent to the wrong person? Why does the list of students for the Composite Catalogue contain so many duplications and misspellings? Why were the names of two girls eligible for Tassels not on the list sent from the Registrar's Office?

We realize that typing and alphabetizing the names of 12,000 students in a month or six weeks is a big job. We also realize that we can help by writing clearly on registration forms and by notifying the Registrar's Office in case of a change in name. A certain amount of the errors can be corrected by us, the students. But the other errors still worry us. Obviously, a great deal of the duplication and error in records can be corrected simply by double-checking, something which it seems would be done almost automatically. Only authorized personnel of the government or the University can get into our records so apparently there is no excuse for misplaced records here.

We are not concerned with the method used to keep our records, only its efficiency. We want to know that our records are correct, that no one's "D" has been substituted for our "B" and that when the time comes for job-hunting our record will be as good or as bad as we have made it—not as good or as bad as the Registrar's Office has made it.

Council Capers

by Rhoda Ezrin

• UNDER THE DIRECTION of program director Kathy Denver, the Student Council is planning a Student Council Day to be held in December. Several officers and members of the student governments of each of the local District, Maryland and Virginia high schools will be invited to attend the University for a day as guests of the Council.

The idea behind the project is to form a closely-knit alliance, such as is found in other regions, among the governing bodies of the secondary schools of this area. At the meeting the students will get together with the University Council officers and discuss problems and methods of student government. Editors of the school papers will also be invited. States Council president Joe Hince, "We hope to make this an annual affair." A preliminary meeting, with presidents of the outstanding high school councils, will be held sometime this month.

Due to the resignation of Myra Little as freshman director, petitions for this office will be accepted in the student activities office through Friday, October 5. Since half of this Council's term has not expired, it will be necessary to select the new freshman director by vote of the students. The election will be held on Wednesday.

New Program For English Teachers Offered By Duke

• A NEW PROGRAM to help fill the need for college English teachers has been established by Duke University. Combining work toward the Ph.D. degree with teaching experience, the program was jointly initiated by Dean Marcus Hobbs of the Duke Graduate School of Arts and Science and Dr. Charles E. Ward, English department chairman.

Ph.D. in Four Years

A number of colleges will co-operate with Duke in the new four-year program. Students who are accepted will receive graduate awards during the first two years, when they will study at Duke. The third year will be devoted to teaching at the cooperating institutions. During the fourth year, these students will combine graduate study with part-time teaching duties back at Duke. On successful completion of the program and Ph.D. requirements, the candidates will be ready to enter teaching with experience as well as the advanced degree.

The shortage of well-qualified college English teachers has reached grave proportions, Dr. Ward said. This new program is designed to help relieve that shortage. The graduate grants and teaching salaries will usually free a student from the necessity of outside work, and thus will permit him to concentrate on graduate study without interruption.

Jobs Delay Degree

"Frequently," Dr. Ward explained, "students have had to earn their way through graduate school by holding part-time jobs unrelated to their studies. In other cases, award of the Ph.D. has been delayed by long periods of full-time work. The new program, however, offers a definite four-year approach to the Ph.D. and provides teaching experience related to the student's academic interests."

This new program is similar to another experimental venture launched recently by Duke University in cooperation with the Charlotte City schools. Aimed at increasing the supply of public school teachers, the Duke-Charlotte program normally leads to the Master of Arts in Teaching degree after a semester and a full Summer Session of study on the campus and a semester of full-time teaching in the Charlotte school system.

Presley Causes Coffee Jump

• ONCE UPON a time there lived a 5c coffee lobbyist named Cofi Fan Tosey. A most successful man, his efforts spread far and wide, and java doled out for a nickel a throw, year in and year out.

Cofi's brother, a loafer-maker named La Boheme von Pontaloon, was in some measure responsible for his brother's success. A man with imagination, La Boheme innovated the world wide custom of inserting pennies in the tongues of loafers. With pennies in loafers, there arose no feasible scheme for raising the tariff on the nickel mud. Cofi and La Boheme lived high on the hog. Then disaster struck.

A new craze hit America—rock and roll. Its insipid and mental numbing effects clawed and clutched at the palpitating mush of adolescent hearts. Suddenly loafers sold no more. Millions of cool daddies trundled to their shoe stores to pick up their blue suede shoes. No more loafers, no more penny inserts. Crisis ensued.

La Boheme, not a lad of strong heart, fagged out and began manufacturing imitation Ming trees. His brother, Cofi, realizing the consequences of the abundance of the copper diriblets, left for the dimrdl business.

by Hester Heale

• OK, YOU SORORITY pledges, you made it. So What? Now it's up to you to make old Auntie Hester's dusty column a spectre of social delight.

Now that you are 'through with all that rush business, I expect you to settle down to the serious business of getting pinned, going to blasts, starting water pistol battles in the middle of boring classes and so on; in short, provide Foggy with bigger and better items of interest. So next time life gets dull, do hop around campus on your pogo stick shouting "American Airlines carries more passengers than any other airline," or do see if you can set a new record for flagpole sitting out on Lisner terrace. Your friends may disown you, your sorority deplored you, but Hester will love you! Just remember to type it all up neatly and put it in my box.

Ah, but rush goes on, now with the fraternities. I imagine that all the houses had major blasts last Saturday, but I know only what I find in my box or what I can glean from rumors. Nobody ever bothers to invite me to parties.

The SAE's based their party Saturday night around a good Southern New Orleans theme, with mint juleps and all. The brothers are particularly happy to welcome back the wandering transfer brother from Tulane, Jerry LaFitte, alias "the Pirate," who has returned to continue his education in the Washington area.

The Sigma Chi's hosted a Victory Celebration with fried chicken, French fries and so forth. Head chef for the occasion was Sigma Kappa Jean Jablonsky, while Sig Sweethearts Kappa Mary Cremin, '46, Kappa Billie Clapp, '48, Marie Hildreth, '51, Kappa Bev Alexander, '55, and DG Sharlie Kovacs, '56, hostessed to make the part a merry blast. People making merry at the TEP house Saturday night included prexy Herbie Silver and Phyllis Fox, Jay Weiss and TEP Sweetheart Marcy Appell, Harvey Press and Charlotte Snyder, Larry Silver and steady Claire Meyerovitch, Marty Zipperman and Judy Jaffe, and Marty Rozansky and Lorraine Meyerovitch.

SPE was rocking to the crazy progressive strains of the Chik Wayne Combo last Saturday while some character known to the public as "Moonog" was enjoying a snack of broken glass and potato chip salad?? Some people will do anything to make use of their free week in the GW hospital. Favors for the occasion were red roses presented by House president Bob (Bloederhund) Olson and DZ pledge Toni Yim.

AEP's bar-warming party on Saturday night was also a great success. Brothers and guests danced to the music of famed AEP's combo led by Harry Handler. And as long as we're on the subject of 1910 G St., the AEP's threw a party Wednesday night for 35 "lucky" freshman girls. Dick Giesler passed up a Gate and Key meeting to stay at the party. Also there were Skip Maraney and Dick Cook.

Meanwhile, I have it on good authority that great blasts were had at the Pike, Delt (what is this crazy mixed up thing I hear about DG May Crouch's shoe being lost in the possession of Tom Smith? He couldn't possibly wear it, could he?), Kappa Sig and Teke houses, with the Tekes presenting the girls with baby orchids and highly spiked punch.

Well, lads, I feel the urge for another toddy, so off I go, dragging my typewriter behind me. And don't panic if your pinning or engagement wasn't in print this week—the nasty editors refused to give me any more room for this yellow column!

• J. PINKERTON HIGGINS, the itinerant nomad from Oak Hills, California, dropped by the HATCHET office last week to inform us that he had registered for a semester at GWU.

"I was coming up from Florida to see what the football factory in the vicinity looks like," he said, "But after last Saturday's fiasco, I decided I might as well study lead-seated politicians instead of lead-seated halfbacks."

Higgins looks something like Wally Cox, except that he's far uglier and infinitely more adventurous. In obvious deference to current college fashions, he was wearing a three-button suit with two buttons missing (a hand-me-down from his father's days at the University of Illinois in 1920), a frayed Hathaway shirt, complete with its own patches (picked up at an auction on Delancey Street) and a tie that wore like a menu from Brownie's.

(He also has a double-breasted blue serge stowed away. If he waits another year, they're bound to be back in style.)

"Tell me something about this place," he said, as he settled his holey shoes on the edge of the desk.

We told him something about the place. We extolled the many virtues of studying in the Nation's Capital, mentioned the Library of Congress; we even took him on a tour of the rose garden. He wasn't impressed.

"There is one thing lacking here, You guys ain't got no culture."

This was blasphemy. No culture here? How about the National Symphony, the evening concerts at the Water Gate, the "Li'l Abner" opening at the National? We even had a Phi Beta Kappa on the football team a couple of years ago.

"Yes, yes, I know all about that. But what I haven't seen are any unorganized discussion groups, or all-out battles on vital issues. The joint is stagnant."

Beauty Queen Joanne Holds 'Miss D.C.' Title

by Bunny Miller

• A QUEEN ON CAMPUS! After a full summer of adding beauty contest titles to an already impressive list, lovely Joanne Holler has returned to the University this fall as a sophomore.

Students may have seen her in the July newsreels when she took the title of Miss District of Columbia of 1956 in the Miss Universe contest. Or they must certainly have seen her representing Washington in the 1956 National College Queen contest. She seems to collect titles as most people collect trinkets, for, among others she lists: Miss Glen Echo of 1956, Queen of the Washington Auto Show in 1954, semi-finalist in the 1954 Miss Washington contest, and more!

Her charm and poise not only won her the title of Miss D. C., but also a pleasant trip to Long Beach, California, last summer. For two weeks the Miss Universe contestants wined and dined with such royalty as the Mayor of the city of Long Beach and other top executives of the California Chamber of Commerce. In addition, these lucky girls also toured the movie studios and partied with several film dignitaries.

Included in the festivities were luncheons every day. Each girl gave a short speech at these affairs and was judged for poise and delivery. Joanne said that the most lasting impression she gained from her trip was the fond friendship which existed between the contestants, even though they represented many different European and Latin American countries. As a side note, she added that the contestants were so closely chaperoned that she didn't get a chance to see many of the Long Beach tourist attractions which she had hoped to visit!

As a result of her selection as the District's entry in the National College Queen contest, Joanne made another trip this summer—this time to Asbury Park, Plans Include B. A.

This very unassuming miss has made no plans for more beauty contests in the near future. Her plans are to finish college with a major in speech, and after graduation to go into the field of speech correction.

Want to Out-Argue Your In-Laws? Debate Club Will Teach You How

by Judy Jaffe

• DOES BEING ABLE to out-argue your mother-in-law appeal to you? Would you like to learn to formulate logical arguments to prove conclusively to your professor that you really don't deserve that F? Then you should be interested in joining the Debate Club, more formally called the Enosinian Debating Society.

This group originated in 1822 when the University was still known as Columbian College.

President James Monroe, Marquis de Lafayette and Robert E. Lee are but a few of the notables who belonged to this society.

The Civil War and World War II interrupted the workings of this group. After World War II, in 1947, the old society became a new one known as the Colonial Debating Club. The name Enosinian Society was again adopted in 1950.

As far as team standing goes, the University team has won many major tournaments in recent years. Among these are the Boston Invitational meet, 1949 and 1954; Georgetown meet, 1953 and 1954; William and Mary tournament, 1948, and the N. Y. U. meet, 1950.

The women's team placed first at the National Forensic tournament at Mary Washington College in 1948 and 1949, and in the 1951 South Atlantic Women's debate. Top spot in the South Atlantic Men's debate was taken by the University in 1951 and 1953.

"It hasn't been too often we've been very far down the ladder," said George F. Henigan, director of debate since 1947. He is assisted by Professor Edwin L. Stevens of the speech department.

Membership in the Enosinian society is open to any regularly enrolled student taking a minimum of nine academic hours with a Q. P. I. of 2.0 or better.

Preparing the year's topic of debate in order to participate in the major intercollegiate meets is the main work of this club's members. This year's topic is "Resolved: That the U. S. Should Discontinue Direct Economic Aid to Foreign Countries."

Novice debaters are given instruction in formal intercollegiate debate. Anyone may come in for discussions. Practice debates are held with various schools, Princeton being one of the most popular "practice" schools.

Squad meetings are held Monday through Thursday at 3 p.m. in the basement of Lisner auditorium. If possible, members are expected to attend two meetings a week.

With approximately ten tournaments included in the yearly schedule, University debaters are kept busy. The trips to these meets extend from overnight to three-day stays. Expenses such as transportation, room and board are paid by the University. Two teams, a total of four people, attend most tournaments.

Debate Club members of sophomore standing, with a good scholastic record, and who have represented the University with distinction in competition are eligible for membership in Delta Sigma Rho, National Debate honorary.

COUNCIL

October 10, in the Student Union lobby.

Series tickets to 15 concerts by the National Symphony Orchestra at Constitution Hall are now on sale for $9.00 in the Student Union lobby from 12 to 1 p.m. and from 5 to 6 p.m. Herb Silver, member-at-large, reminds students that the tickets are being sold on a first come, first served basis.

Publicity director Bernie Paseltiner announced that all bulletin board ads must be 3x5 inches in size, and typewritten. Any ads not conforming will be removed. Posters for the new glass-enclosed cases must be brought to the student activities office for approval before being put up.

Due to the Presidents' meeting tomorrow night, the next meeting of the Student Council will be held Thursday, October 4, at 8:15 p.m. in the conference room of the Student Union annex.

Dance Production Groups Offer Fun and Instruction in Dance

by Arlene Gordon

• REHEARSALS, MAKE-UP, fantastic costumes and loads of fun—these are all part of a University dancer's life. And they can be just as much a part of yours, if you decide to join the Dance Production groups here on campus.

Headed by Miss Elizabeth Burtner and business manager Lenore Alexander, the Dance Production groups offer their members many advantages. Former students have already be-

And men—don't think modern dance is just for the female of the species. YOU are the ones the dance production groups would most like to interest in this activity! It is felt that these dance groups open up a new field of interest for men if only they would give it "the old college try." (Incidentally, fellas—Miss District of Columbia of 1956, Joanne Holler, is a very active member of the dance production groups.) To appeal to their sense of aloofness, a special group for men has been formed which will meet on Thursdays, starting October 4.

Other groups will meet in the following order: Group I, for advanced dancers, Tuesdays and Fridays, beginning October 2; Group II, for intermediate dancers, Thursdays, starting October 4; and Group III, for beginners only—and we do mean beginners!—Mondays, starting October 8.

As yet, Group III has not been organized and will eventually be formed by the people who respond to this year's publicity. Urges over-all manager Lenore Alexander, "Don't hold back because you think there might not be a place for you in the dance production groups. The place is there, waiting for you to fill it!"

And even if you don't consider yourself a Pavlova or a Tallchief (even though the dance production groups will teach you from scratch), there is a place for you in University dance. People interested in art work for publicity and set design, sewing costumes, make-up, props, lighting and music are needed in order to leave the dancers free to dance.

First Big Meeting

Those interested may contact Miss Burtner at building J or Lenore Alexander at OV 3-4173, or come to the general business meeting for all four dance groups at 4 p.m. in building J, October 8.

I sat up with a start, knocking my unopened copy of "Ulysses" to the floor. "Tell me man, what can we do about this?"

He glanced significantly at the half-finished column in my typewriter. "You write for the HATCHET, don't you?"

I disregarded the sarcasm in his voice. "Yes."

"Well, then," he said, "you've got a terrific opportunity. I'll provide the issues and we'll circulate them through your column. We'll light a joint spark at this University that will enshrine culture in a bright academic flame."

He wasn't going to put THAT stuff in my column. After all, even culture has a limit. And somebody's got to be able to read it.

We finally came to an agreeable compromise. Higgins would circulate around the campus, digging up issues, interviewing celebrities and lighting sparks. The results, with appropriate comments, could be published in the following week's paper.

J. P. put out the cigarette dangling from his lip, rose from his chair and slunk out of the door with his collar turned up. He may be on his way to see you. Act cultured, will you please?

Girls Redecorate Big Sis Lounge

• ONE OF THE most successful accomplishments of Big Sis is the newly redecorated Big Sis lounge. Located on the second floor of Woodhull House, the lounge has undergone quite a change since last spring!

Planned by the resourceful Big Sis Board and headed by Mary Hoffman, Big Sis second vice-president, the lounge redecoration began late this summer. Old couches previously covered in dull prints of Canadian mountain scenes were recovered in colors matching the rose and green motif of the walls and linoleum floors. Non-matching chairs were recovered in black and white flecked material giving the room a touch of the tweedy college look.

Chemistry Aids Job

The amazing thing of this whole redecoration project is that a handful of girls did the entire job themselves. Loretta Reeves and Mary picked out materials and covered several straight-backed chairs, while Big Sis prexy Rosalind Hawk, who luckily is a chemistry major, skillfully redyed some old chair material. Mary Lou Bernard suggested arrangements and color schemes and saw to it that the job was finished by the time of freshman orientation.

To make the lounge more interesting, magazines and newspapers have been scattered around the room. Also, Mary has asked that if anyone could donate paperback novels or other books, Big Sis would appreciate it very much.

New Plaque

The wall of the lounge is decorated with a new plaque bearing the name of Carol Dalton as last year's outstanding Big Sis. Carol is the first winner of the title.

Since the beginning of the fall semester, this lounge has been the scene of daily nosebag luncheons which have been very successful. More luncheons are scheduled for the next few weeks.

The colorful lounge is at the disposal of all University women, not only little and big sisters, and is open all day for lunch, recreation or study.

University Enters T. V. Four Times

- THE UNIVERSITY HAS stepped into the local television spotlight on four occasions in the last week.

Monday, September 24, Professor Clay Putnam, instructor in English composition at the University and noted short story author, was interviewed on the Mark Evan's morning show on TV station WTOP. Mr. Putnam teaches "The Short Story" at the University.

Wednesday, September 26, Janet Marshall, first girl to enroll nationally in the AFROTC WAF program and a University junior, was interviewed by Mark Evans on the same program. Miss Marshall discussed her processing the day before, her ride in an Air Force jet fighter and the AFROTC program. First Lt. Virginia Bernhisel, assistant professor of air science, was also present at the interview.

Wolfgang Kraus, professor of political science, and Gerhard Colm, professorial lecturer in economics, were panelists on "The Other Two Billion" last Sunday afternoon on WRC-TV. They spoke on "Divided Germany."

Miss Marshall faced microphones again yesterday for a recording to be used next week-end on NBC's "Monitor." The interview was made at the control tower at Andrews Air Force Base.

Doctor Talks On Life's Aim At Services

- "WHAT IS IT that gives life its meaning?" Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo, Milbank professor of religion, asked University students at the opening chapel service last Wednesday.

Dr. Sizoo, chapel director, answered his question with three points: keep your body fit, cultivate learning and walk humbly with God.

The body, said Dr. Sizoo, is "the temple in which the spirit dwells." He stressed the need for knowledge in the modern world, saying, "It's so easy to substitute prejudice for truth and passion for reason and invective for logic. Truth has nothing to fear from light."

Finally, he emphasized the importance of a "sixth sense," a consciousness of God. "A student may have a strong body and vigorous University chapel services are held every Wednesday at 12:10 p.m. in Western Presbyterian church, 1906 H St., n.w. The non-denominational services are open to all students, faculty members and friends of the University. Dr. Sizoo will speak at tomorrow's service.

Hillel Renews Story Contest

- THE HILLEL LITERARY contest, now in its fourth year as an all-University function, opens this week.

Manuscripts may be submitted in any of three categories: short stories, limited to 3,500 words; essays, limited to 1,500 words; and poetry, which has no limitation in length.

The creative writing competition, initiated at the University in 1953, has received more than two hundred entries since its inception.

Winning stories in each category will be reprinted in a special section of the HATCHET and prizes will be awarded to the winning authors.

All contestants must be registered University students. Entries should be sent to Literary Contest, c/o Al Rode, 1910 G Street, N.W., Washington 6, D. C.

Deadline for the contest has been tentatively set at March 15, 1957.

Honorary Pledges, Elects Chairmen

- TASSELS, sophomore women's service honorary, elected officers following the pledging of fifty-one girls last Saturday afternoon in Woodhull house.

Edith Fenton will serve as meetings chairman; Betsy Evans, projects chairman; Elizabeth Dittenhafer, membership chairman; Marcia Barrett, secretary, and Angela Gnotta, treasurer.

Tassels is sponsored by Mortar Board, senior women's honorary. Presiding at the pledging ceremony were Sandra Shoemaker, Mortar Board president, and Bev Borden, vice president and Tassels' adviser.

To be eligible for the group, a girl must have completed between 24 and 45 academic hours, a minimum of twelve of which must have been taken at the University. She must have a scholastic average of 2.6 and two extra-curricular activities, an average of 2.9 and one activity, or an average of 3.0 and no activities.

AEC Contract

- A $13,455 ATOMIC Energy Commission medical research contract, the largest of three granted to area schools, has been awarded the University, the AEC announced last week.

The contract was awarded for medical research, to be conducted at the University by Paul K. Smith, AEC investigator. Other contracts went to Georgetown University and the University of Maryland.

The contracts were among 48 unclassified life science research contracts awarded by the AEC in the fields of medicine, biology, biophysics, radiation instrumentation and special training.

Anthologies Need Poetry Selections

- CONTRIBUTIONS ARE NOW being accepted for the Annual Anthology of College Poetry and the Annual Anthology of Poetry of Teachers and Librarians, it was announced last week by the National Poetry association.

College students may submit original verse to be considered for possible publication in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry before the closing date, November 5. Entries should include the student's home address and college address and the name of the University.

There is no limitation on theme, form or length. The association stated, however, that shorter manuscripts would be preferred.

College teachers and librarians may submit their original poetry to the Annual Anthology of Poetry of Teachers and Librarians. Closing date for entries is January 1. All manuscripts should be accompanied by the author's home address, school address and the name of the University.

Students' contributions should be sent to College Poetry Anthology, National Poetry association, 3210 Selby Ave., Los Angeles 34, Calif. Teachers' and librarians' manuscripts may be mailed to Teachers Poetry Anthology, NPA, 3210-G Selby Ave., Los Angeles 34, Calif.

Officers Open Men's Social

- GATE AND KEY, fraternity men's honorary, begins the semester with a new slate of officers.

Bruce Mencher of Phi Alpha is president; James Biller, Phi Sigma Kappa, vice president; Roy Dennis, Kappa Sigma, secretary; Laurence Locke, Acacia, treasurer; Paul Welch, Sigma Chi, social chairman, and Walter Jaenicke, Pi Kappa Alpha, publicity chairman.

Meetings are held monthly. The group met last Wednesday at the Delta Tau Delta fraternity house. Each year one faculty member is selected as an honorary member. Last year Dr. Robert H. Harmon, associate University physician, was chosen.

Another annual event is the presentation of the Lacy Garter award, which honors an outstanding sorority woman on campus.

Delphi Holds Work Shop For Pledges

THE ANNUAL DELPHI work-shop for new sorority pledges will be held at 2:45 p.m. Monday October 8, in Woodhull A and C.

The program is planned by the sorority women's honorary to familiarize pledges with the Panhellenic Council and the role of sororities on campus. Delphi membership is honorary. Three members from each sorority are chosen for outstanding contributions to sorority life at the University. The group aids the Panhellenic Council by helping to register fall and spring rushers and arranging social exchanges between sororities.

Speakers will include Joe Hince, president of the Student Council; Carole Hesse, president of Panhellenic, who will explain Panhel; Sandra Shoemaker, president of Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, who will speak on scholarship, and Karin Floyd, Delphi vice-president, who will discuss sorority social life and philanthropies. A skit pertaining to sorority life, directed by Mortar Board vice president Beverly Borden, will follow the speeches.

Combo Completes Sales On Friday

- FRIDAY IS THE final date for purchasing the Campus Combo.

Combos are on sale in the Student Union lobby between 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. Total sales last Friday had reached 515, according to Combo co-chairmen Kathy Denver and Conrad Tuohy.

The Combo, which sells for $7.35, includes a ticket entitling the purchaser to membership in Colonial Boosters, insuring the holder choice seats at University athletic events.

Combo buyers also receive tickets for three drama productions, the modern dance concert and the all-University Homecoming Ball, Winter Weekend and Colonial Cruise.

Purchase of the Combo saves $6.15 on the price of regular admission tickets for students who attend all Combo events. The Combo holder also gets a fifty-percent reduction on a second ticket to the Homecoming Ball.

A Campus Combo contest, open to all Combo buyers, appears on this page of the HATCHET.

Football Contest

THE HATCHET and the Homecoming Committee are sponsoring the following football contest under the management of the HATCHET sports staff.

Any student of George Washington University is eligible to enter and may submit as many entries as he wishes. All entries must be submitted, however, on the official HATCHET entry blank.

Entries may be placed in contest boxes located in (1) the Student Union lobby, (2) the HATCHET newsstand in Monroe Hall, and (3) the HATCHET newsstand in the Hall of Government.

Each entrant should circle his choices of winners in the ten games selected from Southern and Atlantic Coast Conference tilts, area and representative national contests. If the entrant feels the game will end in a tie, he should check the appropriate blank.

Each entrant should pick the score of the George Washington game, noting it in the appropriate blanks at the top of the contest sheet.

The winner or winners will be judged on the most correct games and the closeness of the spread of points to the actual spread in the G. W. game. (In cases of ties, duplicate prizes will be awarded.)

All entries for this week must be in the contest boxes by Friday at 12 noon.

The winning prize will be a ticket for the Homecoming Ball, October 27.

Women's Athletic Board Organizes Sports Club

THE WOMEN'S ATHLETIC association has again strived to compile an interesting and helpful competitive athletic program for all women currently enrolled in the University.

The program for the fall term will include Riding, Golf, Hockey, Tennis and a Rifle club.

The W.A.A. organizes sports clubs for those girls who wish to learn more about the sport, and to compete with other schools during sports days held throughout the year.

Girls wishing to join a sports club may do so simply by contacting the sports manager or the club president. Managers and presidents of the various sports are members of the W.A.A. board. The board meets in building H, between 12 p.m. and 1 p.m. every Monday.

Miss Loretta M. Stallings, faculty advisor to the W.A.A. board has announced that the managerships of the following activities are open: Canoe, Riding and Basketball. The office of corresponding secretary is also vacant. Anyone wishing to be appointed to those positions must first become a member of the Athletic Board as all officers are chosen from the board members themselves.

Mrs. Camille Craig will be the instructor for all those who have signed for the Tennis and Golf classes and will coach the Tennis team.

The Rifle club will have its first meeting in October (no date as yet) and will begin their formal shooting in November. The team will be coached by Mrs. Helen Harris. The riding schedule, due to the large number wishing to (See WAB, page 6)

Intramural Teams Plan Coming Year

• REPRESENTATIVES from sixteen organizations met in the intramural office last Wednesday afternoon to make plans for the coming intramural season.

Touch football will start the intramural schedule, October 14, at the Monument grounds. Teams will be composed of seven men with free substitutions allowed.

There will be various changes from last year's procedure. Before each game, the team captain must give the starting lineups to the head official. Each new man that appears in the game has to report to the official and give his name. Any team that lodges a protest must do it at the time that the alleged infraction occurs. The protest will be heard before a faculty board and all decisions are final.

Monk Casper and Gene Branchi will serve as intramural assistants to Vincent DeAngelis for 1956-57. They will handle the distribution of equipment and supervise all intramural activities.

Rosters of all competing organizations should be handed in to Mr. DeAngelis or to one of his assistants by the end of the week, in order that the schedule for the coming season plus the formation of the league can be made up.

After a lapse of one year tennis will return to the university's intramural program. With the aid of coach Bill Shreve Mr. DeAngelis expects to have a top-flight tournament. The proposed tournament will run for two days. It will be limited to four men from each organization and each participant will be required to play singles, doubles or both. Players who are entered in a match and then do not show up or send a substitute will forfeit ten points.

Mr. DeAngelis would appreciate it if each organization would send him the names of the four players as soon as possible. This is not an elimination tournament, and each player will only be allowed to play one singles and one doubles match. Points will be given for entrance and for winning the match.

The matches will be held in about a month, but no definite time has been announced. Golf will be held concurrently with tennis.

Intramural meetings will be held on Wednesdays at 12:30 p.m. The election of officers will be held at the next meeting. All representatives are requested to be present. Any suggestions for the intramural program will be received by Mr. DeAngelis.

Buff Tennis Team Strong This Year

• THE TENNIS TEAM, in their opinion, has the Southern Conference Championship on ice. Last year, even with bad luck, the Colonial netters took the title from teams which this year lose many top players.

G. W., on the other hand, will be stronger. The addition of former 1 singles player, Ken Garrison, will further add to the team's depth. Then, Jim Tarr, younger brother of Jack Tarr, will probably force Jack into second position. Jim won the Kentucky high school singles and doubles last year.

Teaming with his brother Jack, the two were the second best high school doubles team in the nation two years ago. Jack Tarr, now a sophomore, played last year, and, with another freshman, won the conference doubles. Jim will be the third freshman in a row to hold down the top rung.

Three of the top four positions last spring were held by freshmen. Only Neil Walsh, who teamed with Tarr to take the Conference doubles, is not returning. Saul Leibowitz was the other freshman and the number three singles player.

Saul and AEPI brother Herb Rappaport were undefeated in twelve regular season matches at the number two doubles. They extended their streak to 15, upsetting the top seeded team in the Conference Tournament on the way. In the finals of the doubles, they lost to their teammates, Tarr and Walsh. Thus G. W. had the two best teams in the league.

Rappaport, last year's captain and former number 1 player, had the best record on the team, eleven wins and one loss. He has lost only four matches in three years. If he should choose to use his remaining year of eligibility, Rappaport would lend experience and strength to the squad.

Engineering students John Bouquet and Phil Dobyns went undefeated in doubles last spring and (See TENNIS, page 8)

Looney Tallies TD In Furman Defeat

BO AUSTIN GOES FOR YARDAGE

Co-Captain Bo Austin goes for seven yards in the first quarter down to the Furman 17 on the Colonials touchdown drive. Five plays later Ray Looney sneaked over from the one-yard line.

With The Teams

by Paul Welch

• SLINGIN' SAMMY BAUGH will lead his bucking broncos into Griffith Stadium this Friday evening at 8 p.m. In his second year of coaching, Sammy will undoubtedly be trying to make his old playing-area coaching debut a successful one.

Last year Hardin-Simmons broke even in ten games, with the Cowboys averaging 22.3 points per game, while their opponents averaged 25.6. One thing is sure that the game will be a wide-open affair and it wouldn't be surprising if the Colonials got more than their last year's average of 11 points per game. Arizona State handed the Cowboys their worst defeat last year, a 69 to 14 shellacking, and Hardin-Simmons' best win was over hapless Cincinnati, 55 to 20. Incidentally, Miami could only defeat Cincinnati, 14 to 0.

Coach Bill Reinhart went down to Arkansas to see the Cowboys play two weeks ago and said, "you're going to see a lot of passing as Sammy Baugh has eligible men spread all over the field." Last year's record bears out this statement. Charles Massegee, starting left halfback, caught 24 passes last year for 320 yards, while the second-string halfback, Joel Honeycutt caught 11 for 211 yards. Dan Villarreal, starting right half, caught 12 for 219. Left end Connie Baird received 15 for 178 my has established many records in pro football that will probably stand for a long time. He holds the record for the longest active player in the National Football league, playing with the Washington Redskins for 16 years.

Slingin' Sammy has completed the most passes, 1709, and completed the most passes in one season (1947), 210. Sammy gained the most yardage by passing in one season, 2933, and during his career he gained 22,085 yards, which figures up to be a little more than twelve miles.

SLINGIN' SAMMY BAUGH

Slingin' Sammy was not only a passer, but a kicker too. He holds the record for the best punting average in one season (1942) with an outstanding 48.7 yards for 30 kicks. Sammy also owns two championship game records, the longest punt, 85 yards, and the most yards gained in one game, 338.

Rushing At Game

• ACCORDING to Interfraternity Council regulations, no rushing will be permitted at the game with Hardin-Simmons Friday night. Fraternities will not be allowed to drive rush men to or from the game and will not be permitted to speak to rush men anywhere near or in Griffith Stadium.

yards and right end Carlos Berry caught 11 for 105 yards. Another point for the Cowboys passing attack is that they will lose only Baird and Villarreal after this year. Altogether, the Cowboys have only six seniors on this year's team.

The boy who is responsible for all these passes is Ken "Model A" Ford. Last year Ford was sixth in the nation in passing with 73 completions in 135 attempts, good enough for 854 yards and eight touchdowns. As a freshman, Ford, who is the younger brother of the famed John "Model T" Ford, a member of the University of Arizona coaching staff, rated as the fifth best passer in the nation with 78 completions in 146 attempts, for 946 yards and seven touchdowns.

Ford could have no better coach than the old master of aerial attack himself, Sammy Baugh. Sam-

Hardin-Simmons Opens Buff Home Slate This Friday

• G. W. WILL EITHER have to increase its scoring tempo or come up with a stringent pass defense in order to stop Sammy Baugh's Hardin-Simmons Cowboys Friday night at Griffith Stadium.

Hardin-Simmons is a high-scoring outfit and figures to dent the Buff goal line a couple of times; therefore, the Colonials must show a little more in the way of an offensive punch than they have produced in the first two games—or stop the H. S. passing game.

The Cowboys beat Wichita 20-7 last Saturday after dropping its opener to Arkansas, 21-6. In the loss to the Razorbacks, Hardin-Simmons controlled the game, rolling up 413 yards to 225 for Arkansas, but couldn't come up with the key play often enough.

Sammy Baugh has fashioned a deadly aerial attack with quarterbacks Ken "Model A" Ford (See Picture) and Gene Saur pitching to the ends, halfbacks and fullback. Ford, fifth best passer in the nation as a freshman and sixth best as a sophomore, holds the top spot, but Saur, completing 11 of 12 in the first half against Arkansas, can throw along with him.

In addition to these superlative quarterbacks, 21 of 33 lettermen are returning from last year's team, including a host of topnotch ball carriers, and an array of beefy linemen. Coach Baugh has

Ticket Procedure

• ROBERT K. FARIS, graduate manager of athletics, has announced that: 1) Coupon A of your student activity book will be used for the Hardin-Simmons game; 2) student activity books must be signed in ink; 3) all books will be checked at the gate and identification will be required, and 4) books are not transferable.

more depth than last year when his team won five while dropping the same number. Defense is the main concern, the Cowboys having given up 256 points last year, including a high of 69 to Arizona State.

Co-Captains for the Cowboys will be senior ends, Connie Baird and Carlos Berry. Baird is a 6-3, 190 pound two-year letterman, while Berry, 6-2 and 190, has won three letters. Both are outstanding pass receivers.

Two giants hold down the tackle spots. Bud Cockrell, a 6-3, 240 transfer from Oklahoma (See Picture), anchors the right side, and 230 pound Burdly Polk mans the other spot. Archie Hunter, 6-3, 215, adds strength to the tackle corps. Larry Hill, 185, and Pat Young, 225, hold down the guard spots, while Carroll Dickson, 210 pound sophomore, gets the nod at center.

Coach Baugh has no worries about his backfield. Ford, the number one signal caller, completed 78 of 146 for 948 yards and seven touchdowns as a freshman and 73 of 135 for 854 yards and eight touchdowns last year. Backing up Ford is Saur, senior three-year letterman, who has completed 45 of 86 as a spot player.

• THE BUFF made a first period touchdown and a fourth quarter field goal stand up Saturday night as they beat Furman University, 10-0, at Greenville, South Carolina.

Scoring the first time they had the ball, capped by Ray Looney's sneak for the touchdown, the Colonials were stymied by the Hurricanes until Dick Claypool kicked a 12-yard field goal late in the final period to sew up the ball game.

The Buff were improved considerably over their showing against Miami the previous week. They ran better, their passing was sharper, and the defense was more alert. But even though they looked better, the Colonials still didn't realize their full potential that the coaches know they possess. Too many mistakes were made, including 101 yards in penalties.

For the second week in a row, Mike Sommer was stopped, picking up only 17 yards in nine carries, but as in the opener against Miami, G. W.'s "B" unit came through once again. The second team stopped Furman late in the second quarter, after the Hurricanes had a first and goal to go on the G. W. four, and hurled back another Furman threat on the Buff 24-yard line in the fourth stanza. Offensively, the "B" team put on a 76-yard scoring drive, crossing the goal line twice—but both scores were nullified because of penalties—before Claypool came in and kicked the field goal.

Jack Henzes engineered the 22-yard march with the finesse of a professional. Henzes called his plays very well, sticking to the ground all the way. When he did attempt to pass and was trapped, Jack ran like a swivel-hipped halfback, ripping off gains of 17 and 20 yards. He bucked over to score only to have a holding penalty push G.W. back to its 15. After Furman was penalized five yards for offside, Henzes hit Ted Colna in the end zone for another TD, but again the Buff were penalized 15 yards, this time for having an illegal receiver downfield. Undaunted, however, Jack dropped back to pass, and finding his receivers covered, he put on a brilliant display of broken-field running, picking up 20 yards to the five. On the next play, Claypool booted his field goal.

G. W. started off as if they were going to run Furman out of its own stadium. The Hurricanes, trying to catch the Colonials napping, tried an on-side kick on the opening kickoff, but Ed Sakach foiled the move by pouncing on the loose ball. On the first offensive play, the Buff were offside, but then after, they began to move with Ray Looney in the driver's seat.

Looney pitched out to Sommer who hit Paul Thompson for a 13-yard gain to the Furman 44. After Looney passed incomplete, Furman was offside, giving G. W. a first down on the 39. Ray kept the ball on a keeper, driving for four yards. Sommer, getting hurt on the play, lost one yard, but Looney passed to Thompson for seven yards and another first down. Spera, replacing Sommer, cracked for five and Austin bolted for seven to the 17. Claypool, much more impressive than in last week's game, sped through the Hurricane line for 11 yards to the six. Spera gained two, Claypool hit for another two, and Looney picked up one to the one yard line. On fourth down Looney scored on a sneak, and Claypool converted to give G. W. the lead, 7-0.

The Buff came right back the next time it got the ball, knocking on the Furman door again. Taking the ball on his own 43, Looney threw a strike to Thompson for 17 yards to the 40. On the next play Ray executed a beautiful option play with Spera, Pete picking up 14 yards to the 26. Claypool got nothing. Claypool was called again, on a pitchout pass, but finding his receivers covered and being trapped, Red reversed his field and gained 15 yards to the 11. G. W. was penalized 15 yards for holding, however, and Claypool's fourth down field attempt was wide.

Furman threatened seriously in the second period moving from their 21 to the Colonial one foot line before they were stopped by a great goal line stand by the Buff. A roughing the kicker penalty against G. W. was the key play for the Hurricanes, giving them 15 yards and an automatic first down. Jim Penland put the ball within striking distance when he scooted 25 yards to the Buff 15. A few plays later, quarterback Bill Baker hit end Ray Siminski with a first down pass to the four-yard line, but the vaunted Colonial defense held.

Ray Nickles was held for no gain. Jimmy Grant could pick up only one yard while Penland cracked for two, down to the one. G. W. held Furman on fourth down, but the Colonials were off side, giving the Hurricanes a fifth crack at the goal line. The extra chance was of no avail to Furman as the Buff hit Penland for a two-yard loss. The half ended with G. W. ahead, 7-0.

Both the Colonials and the Hurricanes had their troubles in the third quarter, neither making any headway. Furman started a drive at the beginning of the fourth quarter by intercepting Ray Looney's pass on their own 49 and moving down to the G. W. 24 before being held on fourth down. The Buff took over and marched downfield on its 76-yard drive, making six first downs on the march. Henzes alternated feeding the ball to Colna, Spera, and Bob Shuba, each of whom picked up crucial yardage along the way.

Leading ground gainers for G. W. were: Henzes, five carries for 37 yards; Claypool, six for 35; Austin seven for 26, and Shuba and Colna, each having seven tries good for 25 yards. Paul Thompson caught all three of the Colonial pass completions, picking up 39 yards in the process.
